Annual Benefit Report for 2018

BioGo, GBC

Filed 2/11/19

Benefit Officer Statement

2018 was a year of strategic planning and continuing to build the business. During the year, BioGo GBC was certified by the B Lab. We entered the Minnesota Cup Entrepreneurial Competition and were semi-finalists, reaching the top 10 businesses in the Impact Ventures Division. A business manager was hired and a second product, BabyKit was designed and is now available for sale. We will be placing our first large order in the next few weeks. We are re-designing our website. When this is complete we will begin getting the products into larger retailers where greater than 5% of profits will be donated to purchase medical equipment for doctors in Ethiopia.

Mission Statement

BioGo, GBC is a biodegradable travel kit company. We create compact, environmentally-friendly kits that provide what travelers need to feel clean anywhere. The kits are assembled locally by adults with disabilities and a portion of each kit sold will be donated to buy surgical equipment. We create jobs locally while helping to provide sustainable health care across the globe.

Governance/Workers

Our business is run by a business manager and a Board of Directors. Sandra Skovlund is the Founder and CEO and is a practicing Otolaryngologist. Laura Fagen, Jennifer Hall-Johnson, and Robin Baumgartner are volunteer board members with business and mission experience. Carla Erdman-Young is the business manager who works on product development and design.

The Board of Directors has reviewed and approves this report.

Third Party Standard

We have again chosen GRI Standards as our third party standard. This business establishes global best practices for sustainable reporting. We find that this aligns well with our mission.

Progress Report

We have obtained the B Lab Certification, an exhaustive process to ensure the business is operating within a standard of sustainability and public benefit. We spent several months preparing and competing in the Minnesota Cup and were awarded semi-finalist status- the top 10, in the Impact Venture Division. This allowed us to create a detailed business plan and financial plan for the upcoming 3 years. We hired the business manager and now have one new product.

Goals for 2019

We are now poised for sales to larger retailers like travel companies, baby stores and outdoor retailers who cater to travelers who are clean-conscious and environmentally conscientious. This is the year we are hoping to expand into these larger markets to get the sales numbers we need to make this a viable business over the long term. We will continue to develop new products that broaden our appeal to consumers.
